CAPE TOWN

SPRINGBOK

Bush draws from the slower, more grounded side of travel

Early mornings

Open landscapes

Evenings that settle in gently

Pieces designed to move through those moments with ease

Not to stand out, but to feel right

There's a quiet consistency throughout

In the way materials are used

In the repetition of simple, intentional details

Everything considered

Nothing unnecessary

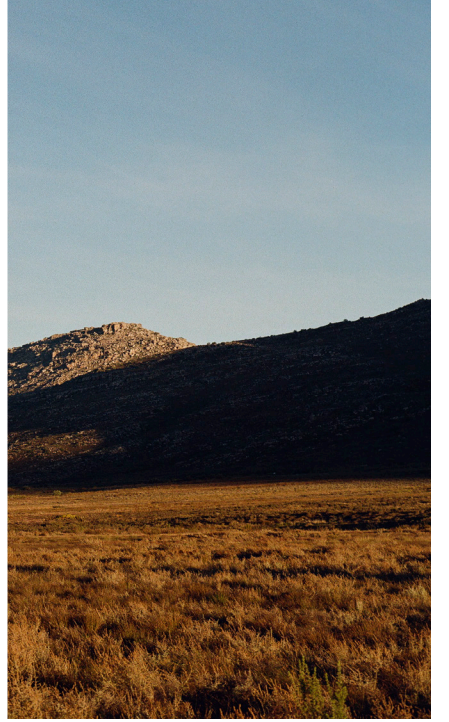

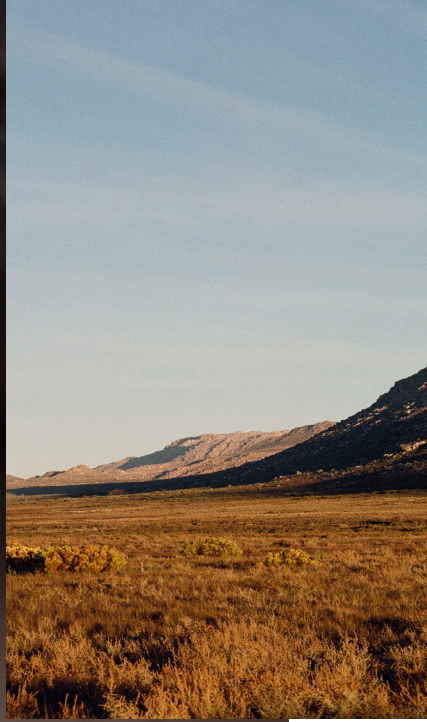

Made in Cape Town

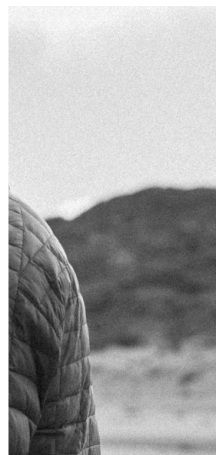

by hands we know

Carried far beyond it

MATERIAL, FORM, AND THE STORIES HELD WITHIN THEM

Dev Trull

PHOTOGRAPHER @ta_devs

Working with Dev shifted how we present ourselves.
His photography doesn't chase perfection, it captures what's real. Unfiltered. Textured, Honest.

In a time where perfection is so easy to create,
we choose to show something authentic.

Born and raised along the Western Cape coastline and shaped by a deep connection with the sea. As a documentary filmmaker, Dev shares conservation stories, shining a light on the often unseen, underfunded individuals protecting the wild spaces and animals they love.
